rained at thirty, the increase being e to the addition of freshmen. Cavaugh is not dismayed at the small ad. He is confident that it will unt to sixty before the week is out. Kicking, passing and running down nts constituted the main portions of rning and afternoon drills, although the latter Cavanaugh added a dose charging and starting. Comerford t his yearlings through the same exises, and later both squads joined der the direction of Cavanaugh for a sion of grass drilling.

The freshman group is not only ger in number than the varsity, but in size. When the two groups come ether in the scrimmages which Cavaugh is planning after two weeks of lling, it seems that the Maroon varsity will have more than its hands full hold down Comerford's husky band youngsters.

The batting order as given in this card is furnished by the managers of the teams on the morning of the game. It is their best judgment at that time. However, there are possibilities of changes by the time the game starts and, if so, YOU CAN CORRECT YOUR CARD BY WATCHING THE SCORE BOARD IN LEFT FIELD. The number of the players can be found at the side of the score page.
